Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Group & Region Focus)

GENERAL INFORMATION ON

Comprehensive Engineering on Water Supply Systems (B)

課題別研修「上水道施設技術総合(B)」

JFY 2017

Course No.J1704066/ID.1784475

Course Period in Japan: From May 31, 2017 to August 17, 2017

This information pertains to one of the JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Group & Region Focus) of the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), which shall be implemented as part of the Official Development Assistance of the Government of Japan based on bilateral agreement between both Governments.

'JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Program (KCCP)' as a New Start

In the Development Cooperation Charter which was released from the Japanese Cabinet on February 2015, it is clearly pointed out that "In its development cooperation, Japan has maintained the spirit of jointly creating things that suit partner countries while respecting ownership, intentions and intrinsic characteristics of the country concerned based on a field-oriented approach through dialogue and collaboration. It has also maintained the approach of building reciprocal relationships with developing countries in which both sides learn from each other and grow and develop together." We believe that this 'Knowledge Co-Creation Program' will serve as a center of mutual learning process.

I. Concept

Background

It is critically important to supply safe and drinkable water from the point of view of Basic Human Needs; however, its resource distribution is extremely skewed in respective countries.

United Nations estimates that one-thirds of world population has still limited access to proper water supply; forcing more than one billion people without safe drinking water due to insufficient management and technical capacity, financial arrangements, public awareness activities and so on.

The Sapporo City, where participants of this course will stay and locates northern metropolis of Japan with 1.89 million populations, 99.8% of residents can enjoy the provision of safe water supply for twenty-four (24) hours all year round. The water quality and continuous water supply in Sapporo are underpinned by Water Capacity 835,200m³/day, Effective Volume 95.6 %, Accounted- For Water 92.4%, and Water Leakage 3.6 %.

This course aims to improve the capacity for waterworks engineer to tackle your own bottlenecks to supply safe and continuous water to your people through making your own feasible “Action Plan” with close consultations by experienced Sapporo City’s experts or professional engineer.

The participant of this course will be able to learn various and valuable assets of waterworks experiences in Sapporo.

For what?

To draw basic plan drawings for a purification facility and pipeline network of your own territory in charge, and to make a feasible action plan for continuous supply safe and drinkable water.

For whom?

This program targets to waterworks expert, professional engineer and officer of central and local government organizations, especially in charge of planning and designing of waterworks.

How?

The participants of this course will acquire practicable knowledge and techniques of waterworks engineering through lectures, site visits, discussions, and consultations with experienced Japanese experts and professional engineer.

More

JICA Hokkaido International Center (Sapporo) was established in 1996, located in Sapporo City, the largest city in Hokkaido Prefecture. Hokkaido is famous for beautiful nature, fresh foods, snowy winter and indigenous Ainu culture, attracting both domestic and international tourists.

JICA Hokkaido has a wide variety of training programs such as agriculture, forestry, fisheries, environment, and tourism, receiving approximately 900 participants from developing countries around the world annually.

For Your Reference

JICA and Capacity Development

The key concept underpinning JICA operations since its establishment in 1974 has been the conviction that “capacity development” is central to the socioeconomic development of any country, regardless of the specific operational scheme one may be undertaking, i.e. expert assignments, development projects, development study projects, training programs, JOCV programs, etc.

Within this wide range of programs, Training Programs have long occupied an important place in JICA operations. Conducted in Japan, they provide partner countries with opportunities to acquire practical knowledge accumulated in Japanese society. Participants dispatched by partner countries might find useful knowledge and re-create their own knowledge for enhancement of their own capacity or that of the organization and society to which they belong.

About 460 pre-organized programs cover a wide range of professional fields, ranging from education, health, infrastructure, energy, trade and finance, to agriculture, rural development, gender mainstreaming, and environmental protection. A variety of programs and are being customized to address the specific needs of different target organizations, such as policy-making organizations, service provision organizations, as well as research and academic institutions. Some programs are organized to target a certain group of countries with similar developmental challenges.

Japanese Development Experience

Japan was the first non-Western country to successfully modernize its society and industrialize its economy. At the core of this process, which started more than 140 years ago, was the “adopt and adapt” concept by which a wide range of appropriate skills and knowledge have been imported from developed countries; these skills and knowledge have been adapted and/or improved using local skills, knowledge and initiatives. They finally became internalized in Japanese society to suit its local needs and conditions.

From engineering technology to production management methods, most of the know-how that has enabled Japan to become what it is today has emanated from this “adoption and adaptation” process, which, of course, has been accompanied by countless failures and errors behind the success stories. We presume that such experiences, both successful and unsuccessful, will be useful to our partners who are trying to address the challenges currently faced by developing countries.

However, it is rather challenging to share with our partners this whole body of Japan’s developmental experience. This difficulty has to do, in part, with the challenge of explaining a body of “tacit knowledge,” a type of knowledge that cannot fully be expressed in words or numbers. Adding to this difficulty are the social and cultural systems of Japan that vastly differ from those of other Western industrialized countries, and hence still remain unfamiliar to many partner countries. Simply stated, coming to Japan might be one way of overcoming such a cultural gap.

JICA, therefore, would like to invite as many leaders of partner countries as possible to come and visit us, to mingle with the Japanese people, and witness the advantages as well as the disadvantages of Japanese systems, so that integration of their findings might help them reach their developmental objectives.
