Training Workshop on Social Conflicts Analysis and Resolution Approaches

Civil Servants are often confronted with situations where intense social conflicts pose a major decisional dilemma. Taking action may intensify conflicts or may result in an outbreak of violence. Inaction may also have similar or worse effect and may impede the process of social justice. This calls for a multi-dimensional analysis of conflict situations and resolution strategies, which may create bridges and facilitate appropriate decision-making and implementation efforts.

This workshop will enable the participants to evolve a comprehensive understanding of social conflicts and approaches to conflict resolution with social justice. Experience sharing and analysis of actual conflict situations and resolution strategies by the participants will be encouraged while insights from scholarly works in the area would also be shared to facilitate discussion on the possible approach which they may consider meaningful in their own specific contexts. Those with some exposure to conflict situations or experience of having resolved it successfully, may like to present brief cases studies, raising points for further discussion by the group.

Participants expected- Senior and middle level civil servants of Central and State Governments in policy making and implementation positions.

Training Programme Duration: Three days

Date to be proposed: February 6-8, 2017
