Subject: Clarification regarding sanction of pensionary benefits to the employees affected by the UP Reorganization Act, 2000

Sir, The undersigned is directed to say that this Department has been receiving queries from State Governments regarding payment of pensionary benefits to State service personnel other than All India Services who have either expired or retired or are due retirement after the appointed day but have not been finally allocated to service to any of the successor States.

It is clarified that while normally pensionary benefits are to be sanctioned by the successor State Government to which a State Service Personnel is finally allocated to service but in cases as above, the benefits have to be sanctioned by the successor State Government from where the employee has relinquished the office on account of retirement/death. As regards apportionment of liability in respect of pensions, the same shall be guided by the VIIIth Schedule of the UP Reorganization Act, 2000.

Yours faithfully,

(R.R. Prasad)
