Sir,

I am directed to refer to the subject noted above and to say that Hon'ble High Court of Allahabad, Lucknow Bench in its order dated 19.11.2009 in Writ Petition No. 3803/2007 and 28876/2007 has directed that “The case in which objections are not considered, the same will be considered by the Union of India in consultation with the state/s under section 73 of the Uttar Pradesh Reorganisation Act,2000 within a period of three months from the date of communication of this order upon giving fullest opportunity of hearing and by passing a reasoned order in the individual cases. At the time of passing order, the authority concerned will give preferential value to the modalities already made known to the parties for the purpose. So far as consequential orders are concerned, since consideration by the Union of India in consultation with the State/s is already over, the consequential orders will be passed also within such period. However the orders which will be passed finally in respect of any of the matters upon consideration of objection or communication of consequential orders will be finally binding upon the parties. Accordingly all the writ petitions are disposed of however without imposing any cost.”
