Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Group & Region Focus)

General information on

Promotion of Energy efficiency and Conservation (A) (Online)

課題別研修 エネルギーの高効率利用と省エネの推進(A)(遠隔) JFY 2022

Course No.: 202107928J001

Online program period:

Group A (Asia Middle East, etc.): From October 31, 2022 to December 20, 2022
Group B (Latin America, etc.): From January 17, 2023 to March 8, 2023

This information pertains to one of the JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Group & Region Focus) of the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), which shall be implemented as part of the Official Development Assistance of the Government of Japan based on bilateral agreement between both Governments.

JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Program (KCCP)

The Japanese Cabinet released the Development Cooperation Charter in February 2015, which stated, "In its development cooperation, Japan has maintained the spirit of jointly creating things that suit partner countries while respecting ownership, intentions and intrinsic characteristics of the country concerned based on a field-oriented approach through dialogue and collaboration. It has also maintained the approach of building reciprocal relationships with developing countries in which both sides learn from each other and grow and develop together." JICA believes that this 'Knowledge Co-Creation Program' will serve as a foundation of mutual learning process.

I. Concept

Background

Under the Paris Agreement, an international framework on climate change from 2020, significance of low-carbon socio-economic development has become a major development issue not only in developed countries, but also in developing countries, which contribute remarkable economic growth.

As the International Energy Agency (IEA) predicts most of the global increase in greenhouse gas emissions will come from developing countries for the next two decades.

In order to address the global goal of reducing carbon dioxide and, in the long term, decarbonizing without hindering economic growth, it is necessary to promote energy efficiency more strongly than ever, along with promoting the introduction of renewable energy.

Japan highly depends on energy resources abroad and has long history of commitment on energy efficiency. In the wake of two oil crises in the 1970s, the society came together to improve energy efficiency which led Japan's energy conservation to the highest level amongst the world. Through the experience, Japan holds a great comparative advantage in the field of energy efficiency and conservation in terms of policy, institution and technology.

This training course is designed for officials engaged in energy efficiency and conservation policies, promotion, and audits, and introduces the recognition of issues based on IEA energy data, the overall picture of energy efficiency and conservation policies, energy efficiency and conservation promotion measures in the industrial, commercial and residential sectors, energy efficiency and conservation in lighting and air conditioning equipment, energy management and audits, and other initiatives to promote the government and private sectors' role in energy efficiency and conservation.

By deepening understanding of the roles, measures, etc. The objective is to contribute to improving the ability of countries to formulate policies to promote energy efficiency and energy conservation.

For what?

The course is specialized in the industrial, commercial and residential sectors. In addition to the core curriculum common to all courses; the participants obtain knowledge on specific measures and cases to focus on the industrial, commercial and residential sectors from the aspect of energy saving technologies, facilities, energy management, control technologies and operation.

For whom?

This program is targeted to government officials in charge of promotion of energy efficiency and conservation in particular in industrial, commercial and residential sectors at central government, local government organization and public service corporations.

How?

Participants shall have opportunities to learn methods of effective Promotion of Energy Efficiency and Conservation through lectures in online and discussions, and to understand the issues of their home countries through learning theoretical perspectives and experience of Japan.

At the end of the online training, participants will also create an action plan describing how they will apply what they have learned and discussed in this training course to their future activities.

JICA and Capacity Development

Technical cooperation is people-to-people cooperation that supports partner countries in enhancing their comprehensive capacities to address development challenges by their own efforts. Instead of applying Japanese technology per se to partner countries, JICA's technical cooperation provides solutions that best fit their needs by working with people living there. In the process, consideration is given to factors such as their regional characteristics, historical background, and languages. JICA does not limit its technical cooperation to human resources development; it offers multi-tiered assistance that also involves organizational strengthening, policy formulation, and institution building.

Implementation methods of JICA's technical cooperation can be divided into two approaches. One is overseas cooperation by dispatching experts and volunteers in various development sectors to partner countries; the other is domestic cooperation by inviting participants from developing countries to Japan. The latter method is the Knowledge Co-Creation Program, formerly called Training Program, and it is one of the core programs carried out in Japan. By inviting officials from partner countries and with cooperation from domestic partners, the Knowledge Co-Creation Program provides technical knowledge and practical solutions for development issues in participating countries.

The Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Group & Region Focus) has long occupied an important place in JICA operations. About 400 pre-organized course cover a wide range of professional fields, ranging from education, health, infrastructure, energy, trade and finance, to agriculture, rural development, gender mainstreaming, and environmental protection. A variety of programs is being customized by the different target organizations to address the specific needs, such as policy-making organizations, service provision organizations, as well as research and academic institutions. Some programs are organized to target a certain group of countries with similar developmental challenges.

Japanese Development Experience

Japan, as the first non-Western nation to become a developed country, built itself into a country that is free, peaceful, prosperous and democratic while preserving its tradition. Japan will serve as one of the best examples for our partner countries to follow in their own development.

From engineering technology to production management methods, most of the know-how that has enabled Japan to become what it is today has emanated from a process of adoption and adaptation, of course, has been accompanied by countless failures and errors behind the success stories.

Through Japan's progressive adaptation and application of systems, methods and technologies from the West in a way that is suited to its own circumstances, Japan has developed a storehouse of knowledge not found elsewhere from unique systems of organization, administration and personnel management to such social systems as the livelihood improvement approach and governmental organization. It is not easy to apply such experiences to other countries where the circumstances differ, but the experiences can provide ideas and clues useful when devising measures to solve problems.

JICA, therefore, would like to invite as many leaders of partner countries as possible to come and visit us, to mingle with the Japanese people, and witness the advantages as well as the disadvantages of Japanese systems, so that integration of their findings might help them reach their developmental objectives.
